DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 3-11 are objected to because of the following informalities: claim 3, line 9, “step of” should be deleted because the evaluating is not a step. Claims 4-11 are likewise objected to. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 1 and 3-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as not falling within one of the four statutory categories of invention. While the claims recite a series of steps or acts to be performed, a statutory “process” under 35 U.S.C. 101 must (1) be tied to another statutory category (such as a particular apparatus), or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or material) to a different state or thing (Reference the May 15, 2008 memorandum issued by Deputy Commissioner for Patent Examining Policy, John J. Love, titled “Clarification of ‘Processes’ under 35 U.S.C. 101”). The instant claims neither transform underlying subject matter nor positively tie to another statutory category that accomplishes the claimed method steps, and therefore do not qualify as a statutory process.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2611

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Heo et al US patent Application publication 2003/0035367 in view of Chheda US patent Application publication 2003/0231586.

Heo et al discloses a method and apparatus see figs. 1-4 comprising assigning one of at least two radio configuration (i.e. 412 or 414) as a function of a higher data transmission rate 410 (see abstract) the rate is calculated for each radio configuration based on a power level and Walsh code see paragraph 0020, lines 5-10 and transmitting the data burst using said assigned radio configuration see abstract. Heo does not teach the use of at least two orthogonal code sets arranged for coding of data transmitted in a wireless communication system. Chheda teaches at paragraph. 0034, last 2 lines the use of a first orthogonal code sets in a first radio configuration and further teaches at paragraph 0035, last 2 lines the use of a second orthogonal code sets in a second radio configuration arranged for coding of data transmitted in a wireless communication system. Given that fact, it would have been obvious to one skill in the art to modify Heo et al by using at least two orthogonal code sets arranged for coding of data transmitted in a wireless communication system because it would ensure that the code used in radio configuration does not interfere with another code used in another radio configuration resulting in an improved signal throughput.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. The indicated allowability of claims 3-11 is withdrawn in view of the above new ground of rejection.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
